

Dr. Albert Morier
Consumer Optical
www.consumeroptical.com

Dr. Morier started practicing in Rotterdam in 1983. He is a 1975 graduate of SUNY at Geneseo in Biology and a 1982 Honors Graduate of SUNY College of Optometry in New York City. Dr. Morier finished a Master's in Biology from Geneseo in May, 2008. He lectures all over the United States on Dry Eye therapy, contact lenses and treating the visually impaired. He has lectured for Alcon Pharmaceuticals, Allergan Pharmaceuticals and Acuvue contact lenses. He is a national authority on the ocular manifestations of a lysosomal storage disorder, Fabry Disease. He speaks annually to 12 colleges around the country including Ohio State, Indiana University, University of Oklahoma and University of Houston.

"My office has had a Briot edger for over 10 years. It's easy to use and it seems to run continuously. We've experienced very few problems. Our rep, Steve Wheaton, has always been responsive and professional if we do need help. Our Briot is a workhorse and I never have to think about it as it keeps on going and going and going.....

– Dr. Albert Morier